WARD POTTER ATTORNEYS MOVING TO WILSON ESTATES OFFICE PARK

(Wichita, KS) – Ward Potter LLC is moving to Wilson Estates Office Park. They will occupy new space in the Simmons Bank Building at 8415 E. 21st Street this fall. The announcement is made by Paul Jackson, president of Vantage Point Properties, and Lynn Ward and Tony Potter of Ward Potter LLC.

Ward Potter currently occupies approximately 2,500 square feet at the Riverview Building at 345 Riverview in midtown. They have outgrown their space and will be leasing 4,400 square feet in their new location. The firm focuses on Kansas family law. The new building will help them expand into family law arbitration and mediation and add three additional family law attorneys to their practice.

“At a time when most law practices and businesses are reducing their footprints, we are expanding,” says Lynn Ward, founding member of Ward Potter. Tony Potter has been mediating cases for over twenty years and looks forward to the opportunity the growing practice offers him to use his mediation abilities. “I began mediating in 1999 and have either mediated or participated as counsel in more than 600 mediations,” said Potter. “In a family law case, mediation is the best way for the parties to retain control of what matters most and make decisions affecting their children and assets. Judges do a good job of making those decisions when parties can’t, but no one makes a better decision for a child than parents. When parents make those decisions in mediation, they not only resolve the issues but set a foundation to help resolve future issues.”

Wilson Estates is home to more than two dozen professional services businesses spanning law, insurance, oil, financial services, and real estate. “I’ve known and respected Lynn for years, so I was thrilled at the opportunity to work with her and Tony to help them find a new home. Ward Potter is an excellent addition to the other high caliber companies at Wilson Estates Office Park,” says Jackson.

ICON Structures will be the general contractor, and SPT Architecture will be the project architect.
